THE ALBERTA ACT

An Act to establish and provide for the Government of the Province of Alberta.

(Cap. 3, 4-5 Ed. VII.)

(Assented to July 20, 1905.)

WHEREAS in and by The British North America Act, 1871, being chapter 28 of the Acts of the Parliament of the United Kingdom passed in the session thereof held in the 34th and 35th years of the reign of her late Majesty Queen Victoria, it is enacted that the Parliament of Canada may from time to time establish new provinces in any territories forming for the time being part of the Dominion of Canada, but not included in any province thereof, and may, at the time of such establishment, make provision for the constitution and administration of any such province, and for the passing of laws for the peace, order and good government of such province and for its representation in the said Parliament of Canada;

And whereas it is expedient to establish as a province the territory hereinafter described, and to make provision for the government thereof and the representation thereof in the Parliament of Canada;

Therefore His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as "The Alberta Act."

2. The territories comprised within the following boundaries, that is to say,—commencing at the intersection of the International boundary dividing Canada from the United States of America by the fourth meridian in the system of Dominion lands surveys; thence westerly along the said international boundary to the eastern boundary of the Province of British Columbia; thence northerly along the said eastern boundary of the Province of British Columbia to the north-east corner of the said province; thence easterly along the said parallel of the sixtieth degree of north latitude to the fourth meridian in the system of Dominion lands surveys as the same may be hereafter defined in accordance with the said system; thence southerly along the said fourth Meridian to the point of commencement—is hereby established as a province of the Dominion of Canada, to be called and known as the Province of Alberta.

3. The provisions of The British North America Acts, 1867 to 1886, shall apply to the Province of Alberta in the same way and to the like extent as they apply to the provinces heretofore comprised in the Dominion, as if the said Province of Alberta had been one of the provinces originally united, except in so far as varied by this Act and except such provisions as are in terms made, or by reasonable intendment may be held to be, specially applicable to or only to affect one or more and not the whole of the said provinces.

4. The said province shall be represented in the Senate of Canada by four members: Provided that such representation may, after the completion of the next decennial census, be from time to time increased to six by the Parliament of Canada.

5. The said province and the Province of Saskatchewan shall, until the termination of the Parliament of Canada existing at the time of the first readjustment hereinafter provided for, continue to be represented in the House of Commons as provided by chapter 60 of the Statutes of 1903, each of the electoral districts defined in that part of the schedule to the said Act which relates to the North-West Territories, whether such district is wholly in one of the said provinces, or partly in one and partly in the other of them, being represented by one member.

6. Upon the completion of the next quinquennial census for the said province, the representation thereof shall forthwith be readjusted by the Parliament of Canada in such a manner that there shall be assigned to the said province such a number of members as will bear the same proportion to the number of its population ascertained at such quinquennial census as the number sixty-five bears to the number of the population of Quebec as ascertained at the then last decennial census; and in the computation of the number of members for the said province a fractional part not exceeding one-half of the whole number requisite for entitling the province to a member shall be disregarded, and a fractional part exceeding one-half of that number shall be deemed equivalent to the whole number, and such readjustment shall take effect upon the termination of the Parliament then existing.

2. The representation of the said province shall thereafter be readjusted from time to time according to the provisions of section 51 of The British North America Act, 1867.

7. Until the Parliament of Canada otherwise provides, the qualifications of voters for the election of members of the House of Commons and the proceedings at and in connection with elections of such members shall, mutatis mutandis, be those prescribed by law at the time this Act comes into force with respect to such elections in the North-West Territories.

8. The Executive Council of the said province shall be composed of such persons, under such designations, as the Lieutenant Governor from time to time thinks fit.

9. Unless and until the Lieutenant Governor in Council of the said province otherwise directs, by proclamation under the Great Seal, the seat of government of the said province shall be at Edmonton.

10. All powers, authorities and functions which under any law were before the coming into force of this Act vested in or exercisable by the Lieutenant Governor of the North-West Territories, with the advice, or with the advice and consent, of the Executive Council thereof, or in conjunction with that Council or with any member or members thereof, or by the said Lieutenant Governor individually, shall, so far as they are capable of being exercised after the coming into force of this Act in relation to the government of the said province, be vested in and shall or may be exercised by the Lieutenant Governor of the said province, with the advice, or with the advice and consent of, or in conjunction with, the Executive Council of the said province or any member or members thereof, or by the Lieutenant Governor individually, as the case requires, subject nevertheless to be abolished or altered by the Legislature of the said province.

11. The Lieutenant Governor in Council shall, as soon as may be after this Act comes into force, adopt and provide a Great Seal of the said province, and may, from time to time, change such seal.

12. There shall be a Legislature for the said province consisting of the Lieutenant Governor and one house, to be styled the Legislative Assembly of Alberta.

13. Until the said Legislature otherwise provides, the Legislative Assembly shall be composed of twenty-five members to be elected to represent the electoral divisions defined in the schedule to this Act. (NOTE: See 1909, c. 2, as amended by 1913, c. 2, for new electoral districts.)

14. Until the said Legislature otherwise determines, all the provisions of the law with regard to the constitution of the Legislative Assembly of the North-West Territories and the election of members thereof shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the Legislative Assembly of the said province and the elections of members thereof respectively.

15. The writs for the election of the members of the first Legislative Assembly of the said province shall be issued by the Lieutenant Governor and made returnable within six months after this Act comes into force.

16. All laws and all orders and regulations made thereunder, so far as they are not inconsistent with anything contained in this Act, or as to which this Act contains no provision intended as a substitute therefor, and all courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction, and all commissions, powers, authorities and functions and all officers and functionaries, judicial, administrative and ministerial, existing immediately before the coming into force of this Act in the territory hereby established as the Province of Alberta, shall continue in the said province as if this Act and The Saskatchewan Act had not been passed; subject nevertheless except with respect to such as are enacted by or existing under Acts of the Parliament of Great Britain, or of the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, to be repealed, abolished or altered by the Parliament of Canada, or by the Legislature of the said province, according to the authority of the Parliament or of the said Legislature: Provided that all powers, authorities and functions which under any law, order or regulation were, before the coming into force of this Act, vested in or exercisable by any public officer or functionary of the North-West Territories shall be vested in and exercisable in and for the said province by like public officers and functionaries of the said province when appointed by competent authority.

2. The Legislature of the province may, for all purposes affecting or extending to the said province, abolish the Supreme Court of the North-West Territories, and the offices both judicial and ministerial thereof, and the jurisdiction, powers and authority belonging or incident to the said court: Provided that, if, upon such abolition, the Legislature constitutes a superior court of criminal jurisdiction, the procedure in criminal matters then obtaining in respect of the Supreme Court of the North-West Territories shall, until otherwise provided by competent authority, continue to apply to such superior court, and that the Governor in Council may at any time and from time to time declare all or any part of such procedure to be inapplicable to such superior court.

3. All societies or associations incorporated by or under the authority of the Legislature of the North-West Territories existing at the time of the coming into force of this Act which include within their objects the regulation of the practice of, or the right to practise, any profession or trade in the North-West Territories, such as the legal or the medical profession, dentistry, pharmaceutical chemistry and the like, shall continue, subject, however, to be dissolved and abolished by order of the Governor in Council, and each of such societies shall have power to arrange for and effect the payment of its debts and liabilities, and the division, disposition or transfer of its property.

4. Every joint stock company lawfully incorporated by or under the authority of any Ordinance of the North-West Territories shall be subject to the legislative authority of the Province of Alberta if—

(a) The head office or the registered office of such company is at the time of the coming into force of this Act situate in the Province of Alberta; and

(b) The powers and objects of such company are such as might be conferred by the Legislature of the said province and not expressly authorized to be executed in any part of the North-West Territories beyond the limits of the said province.

17. Section 93 of The British North America Act, 1867, shall apply to the said province, with the substitution for paragraph (1) of the said section 93 of the following paragraph:

“(1) Nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to the separate schools which any class of persons have at the date of the passing of this Act, under the terms of chapters 29 and 30 of the Ordinances of the North-West Territories, passed in the year 1901, or with respect to religious instruction in any public or separate school as provided for in the said Ordinances.”

2. In the appropriation by the Legislature or distribution by the Government of the province of any moneys for the support of schools organized and carried on in accordance with the said chapter 29, or any Act passed in amendment thereof or in substitution therefor, there shall be no discrimination against schools of any class described in the said chapter 29.

3. Where the expression "by law" is employed in paragraph (3) of the said section 93, it shall be held to mean the law as set out in the said chapters 29 and 30; and where the expression "at the union" is employed, in the said paragraph (3), it shall be held to mean the date at which this Act comes into force.

REGULATIONS IN REGARD TO SUBDIVISION OF LAND.

(Under Authority of Section 64a of The Public Works Act.)

Inserted for convenience only. Subject to change by Minister of Public Works at any time.

1. Before the owner of any land may present to the registrar of any Land Titles Office any plan of subdivision thereof, for registration under section 124 of The Land Titles Act he shall submit a plan of same in duplicate for approval of the Minister of Public Works. Such preliminary plan shall show the location of the land to be subdivided; the location and dimensions of all streets, lanes, roadways, lots, blocks and other proposed subdivisions, the connection with streets of adjoining registered subdivisions, all lakes, streams, creeks or other bodies of water and all natural water courses, ravines and coulees and sufficient contour lines to indicate clearly the topographical features of the land to be subdivided and of the immediately adjoining land when the same is property of the owner of the land to be subdivided. Every such plan shall be accompanied by a fee of Fifty Dollars ($50.00).

2. Such preliminary plan shall show the location and dimensions of the boundaries of the quarter section or registered parcel containing the land to be subdivided, and shall give sufficient information to show clearly how such lines have been established by the surveyor.

3. Such plan shall also give the number of lots or separate parcels in the proposed subdivision which it is intended shall be registered and must be signed by the registered owner of the land and bear the following certificate signed by an Alberta Land Surveyor: "I hereby certify that this plan has been prepared from actual survey on the ground and is correct."

4. Before approving and certifying any plan the Minister shall satisfy himself that the land proposed to be subdivided is reasonably accessible and that any surface water which may accumulate thereon may be drained therefrom at a reasonable cost.

5. Should it appear that the whole or any part of the land proposed to be subdivided should not in the public interest be subdivided or offered for sale to the public, the Minister shall notify the owner of the land as to what portions of the proposed subdivision he is prepared to approve, and set forth the conditions as to accessibility and drainage under which he will approve of the remainder of the subdivision.

6. Where the land proposed to be subdivided is in or near any corporate city or town the Minister may require the owner to secure the approval of the council of such city or town or someone deputed by them to give such approval.

7. When the land proposed to be subdivided is adjacent to any body of water a road shall be provided along the shore of such body of water.

8. No street shall be laid out less than sixty-six feet in width, but streets of greater width shall be provided if required by the Minister.

9. No lane shall be laid out less than twenty feet in width.

10. Access shall be provided by lane to the rear of every lot having a frontage of sixty-five feet or less.

11. The distance between parallel streets or streets having the same general direction shall not exceed six hundred and sixty feet.

12. When the parcel of land to be subdivided adjoins property that has been previously subdivided, at least every alternate street as laid out in the previous subdivision shall be produced through in the proposed subdivision; provided however that where the parcel of land to be subdivided lies between two parcels previously subdivided, this provision shall be so modified that a sufficient number of streets in either or both of the adjoining subdivisions shall be produced through the proposed subdivision, and the Minister shall determine what streets in either or both of the previous subdivisions shall be so produced.

13. No strip of land shall be left unsubdivided between any subdivision and the adjacent lands owned by any other person, the leaving of which strip is obviously intended to debar the owner of such adjacent lands from having access to the streets and lanes of the subdivision.

14. Every subdivision shall be connected by a suitable street or streets with each of the roads allowances which bound the section of which the subdivision forms a part. The Department may, provided compensation is guaranteed, exercise its powers of expropriation, where the land required for such purposes cannot be purchased at a reasonable price by the owner of the townsite.

15. In acreage subdivisions the size and shape of the separate parcels of land shall be made suitable for a plan of further subdivision in accordance with these regulations and when adjacent to a previous subdivision the boundary lines between the parcels shall be so placed as to become the centre line of streets produced from the previous subdivision.

16. All surveys must be staked on the ground to the satisfaction of the director of surveys before the registration plans will be approved.

17. All plans of subdivision presented for approval shall be on a scale of two hundred feet to one inch.

18. The Minister may, prior to the registration of any subdivision plan, order such changes thereon as may be deemed necessary in the public interest.

19. Every plan shall show a parcel or parcels of land, the location of which is satisfactory to the Minister of Public Works, containing at least 5 per cent. of the total area being registered, but not in any case less than 2 acres, to be reserved for such public purpose or purposes as the Minister may from time to time determine; Provided that where later additions to the said townsite are made by the same owners, the area to be conveyed for public purposes shall be determined by considering the first plan and the additions as a whole.

Such parcel or parcels shall on the plan in addition to the regular designation by lot or block number, be marked "Reserved for Public Works Department." (1914, 19th May.)

20. Where the area of a subdivision is less than forty acres and comprises the entire holding of the owner the Minister may, in his discretion, accept such percentage of the total area being subdivided as may to him seem just.

21. The Minister may decline to approve a plan where in his opinion the name conflicts with the name of any existing subdivision or is in his opinion misleading to the public.

22. The Minister may authorize the registration of any plan notwithstanding that the same does not conform with these regulations when in his opinion special and peculiar circumstances exist.

23. When the proposed system of subdivision is found to be satisfactory the owner shall, prior to the certifying of the plan as approved by the Minister, pay to the Department of Public Works a fee of One Dollar and Fifty Cents for each lot or separate parcel into which the land is proposed to be subdivided as shown on the plan.

24. The Minister may, in approving any plan for registration limit the time for which such approval holds good and within which the plan must be registered.

25. Before approving any proposed plan of subdivision the Minister may require satisfactory evidence to be furnished that all taxes due on the property have been paid. (7th Nov., 1914).

4. Save as herein provided no person shall be entitled to act as a coroner in the province.

No fees shall be payable to a coroner in respect of an inquest unless, prior to the issuing of his warrant for summoning the jury, he shall have made an affidavit in form A in the schedule to this Act, or to a like effect, stating that from information received by him he is of opinion that there is reason for believing that the deceased did not come to his death from natural causes, or from mere accident or mischance, but that he came to his death from violent or unfair means, or culpable or negligent conduct of others under circumstances requiring investigation by a coroner's inquest.

Warrant for burial when coroner deems inquest

6. In any case in which the death of any person has been reported to a coroner and he has, in consequence of information received by him, make the affidavit required by section 5 of this Act, if, after viewing the body of such deceased person and having made such further inquiries as he deems necessary, he comes to the conclusion that an inquest is unnecessary, he shall have the right to issue a warrant to bury in the same manner as he would have had power to do in case an inquest had been actually held and to withdraw the warrant for a holding of an inquest in case he has issued such warrant.

(2) In every such case the coroner shall make a declaration in writing under oath, setting forth briefly the result of such inquiry and the ground on which the warrant for burial had been issued, which declaration shall be made in form B in the schedule to this Act, or to a like effect. HIS MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta, enacts as follows:

SHORT TITLE.

Short title 1. This Act may be cited as "The Mechanics' Lien Act."

- Contractor 2. "Contractor" shall mean a person employed directly by the owner for doing the work or placing or furnishing materials for any of the purposes mentioned in this Act;
- Subcontractor 3. "Subcontractor" shall mean a person not contracting with or employed directly by the owner for the purpose aforesaid, but contracting with or employed by the contractor or under him, by another subcontractor, to do all or a certain portion of the work or to place or furnish material, but a person doing manual or mental labour for wages shall not be deemed a "subcontractor";
- Owner 4. "Owner" shall extend to and include a person having any estate or interest, legal or equitable, in the lands upon or in respect of which the work is done or materials are placed or furnished, at whose request and upon whose credit or on whose behalf, or with whose privity or consent, or for whose direct benefit any such work is done or materials are placed or furnished, and all persons claiming under him whose rights are acquired after the work in respect to which the lien is claimed is commenced or the materials furnished have been commenced to be furnished;
- Works or improvements 5. "Works or improvements" shall include every act or undertaking for which a lien may be claimed under this Act;
- Labourer 6. "Labourer" shall mean, extend to and include every mechanic, miner, artisan, builder, or other person doing labour for wages;

- Wages 8. "Wages" shall mean money earned by a labourer, for work done whether by time or as piece work.

APPLICATION.

3. This Act shall apply to any contract made or work begun Application previous to the passage hereof, but only so far as regards any moneys remaining unpaid and as respects any such unpaid moneys.

NATURE OF LIENS.

4. Unless there is an agreement in writing to the contrary Mechanics and others to have liens for work done, etc. signed by the person claiming the lien, every contractor, sub-contractor, labourer, and furnisher of material doing or causing work to be done upon or placing or furnishing any materials to be used in or for the construction, erection, alteration or repairs, either in whole or in part of, or addition to, any building, tramway, railway, erection, wharf, bridge or other work, or doing or causing work to be done upon, or in connection with, or the placing or furnishing of materials to be used in or for the clearing, excavating, filling, grading, tracklaying, draining, or irrigating of any land in respect of a tramway, railway, mine, sewer, drain, ditch, flume or other work, or improving any street, road or sidewalk adjacent thereto, at the request of the owner of such land shall by virtue thereof have a lien or charge for the price of such work, and the placing or furnishing of such materials upon such building, erection, wharf, machinery, fixture, or other works, and all materials furnished or produced for use in constructing or making such works or improvements so long as the same are about to be in good faith worked into or made part of the said works or improvements, and the land, premises, and appurtenances thereto, occupied thereby or enjoyed therewith, but limited in amount as hereinafter mentioned:

Provided such lien shall affect only such interest in the said land, premises and appurtenances thereto as is vested in the owner at the time the works or improvements are commenced, or any greater interest the owner may acquire during the progress of the works or improvements, or have at any time during which the lien stands as an encumbrance against said land.

5: When any material is brought upon any land to be used Material subject to lien in connection with such land for any of the purposes enumerated in the last preceding section hereof, the same shall be subject to a lien for the unpaid price thereof in favour of any person supplying the same until it is put or worked into the building, erection or work as part of the same.

6. No agreement shall be held to deprive any one otherwise Agreement as to liens entitled to a lien under this Act and not a party to the agreement of the benefit of the lien and the lien shall attach notwithstanding such agreement.

7. The taking of any security for, or the acceptance of any Certain proceedings not to be deemed satisfaction or waiver of lien promissory note for, or cheque which on presentation is dishonoured, or the taking of any other acknowledgment of the claim, or the taking of any proceedings for the recovery of the claim or the recovery of any personal judgment for the claim, shall not merge, waive, pay, satisfy, prejudice, or destroy any lien created by this Act, unless the lienholder agrees in writing that it shall have that effect:

Provided, however, that a person who has extended the time for payment of any claim for which he has a lien under this Act to obtain the benefit of this section shall institute proceedings to enforce such lien within the time limited by this Act, but no further proceedings shall be taken in the action until the expiration of such extension of time:

Provided further, that notwithstanding such extension of time such person may where proceedings are instituted by any other person to enforce a lien against the same property prove and obtain payment of his claim in such suit or action as if no such extension had been given.

which lien
limited

8. Such lien shall be limited in amount to the sum actually owing to the person entitled to the lien.

Liens on
premises

9. Where works or improvements are put upon mortgaged premises the liens by virtue of this Act shall be prior to such mortgage as against the increase in value of the mortgaged premises by reason of such works or improvements but not further unless the same is done at the request of the mortgagee in writing; and the amount of such increase shall be ascertained upon the basis of the selling value upon taking on the account, or by the trial of an action or issue as provided herein, and thereupon the judge may if he shall consider the works or improvements of sufficient value to justify the proceedings order the mortgaged premises to be sold at an upset price equal to the selling value of the premises immediately prior to the commencement of such works or improvements (to be ascertained as aforesaid) and any sum realized in excess of such upset price shall be subject to the liens provided for by this Act. The moneys equal to the upset price as aforesaid shall be applied towards the said mortgage or mortgages according to their priority. Nothing, however, in this section shall prevent the lien from attaching upon the equity of redemption or other interest of the owner of the land subject to such mortgage or charge.

Interpretation
of mortgage

(2) "Mortgage" in this section shall not include any part of the principal sum secured thereby not actually advanced to the borrower at the time the works or improvements are commenced, and shall include a vendor's lien and an agreement for the purchase of land, and for the purposes of this Act and within the meaning thereof the purchaser shall be deemed mortgagor and the seller a mortgagee.

Claim for wages

10. Without prejudice to any liens which he may have under the preceding sections every mechanic, labourer or other person who performs labour for wages upon the construction, alteration or repairs of any building or erection, or in erecting or placing machinery of any kind in, upon or in connection with any building, erection or mine shall to the extent of the interest of the owner have upon the building, erection or mine and the land occupied thereby or enjoyed therewith a lien for such wages, not exceeding the wages of six weeks or a balance equal to his wages for six weeks.

(2) The lien for wages given by this section shall attach when the labour is in respect of a building, erection or mine on property belonging to the wife of the person at whose instance the work is done, upon the estate or interest of the wife in such property as well as upon that of her husband.

11. Every building or other improvement mentioned in the fourth section of this Act constructed upon any lands with the knowledge of the owner or his authorized agent, or the person having or claiming any interest therein, shall be held to have been constructed at the request of such owner or person having or claiming any interest therein, unless such owner or person having or claiming an interest therein shall, within three days after he shall have obtained knowledge of the construction, alteration or repair, give notice that he will not be responsible for the same, by posting a notice in writing to that effect in some conspicuous place upon said land or upon the building or other improvement thereon.

Owner of land deemed to have authorized the erection of buildings thereon

(2) Whenever such owner or such person, not having contracted for or agreed to such construction, alteration, repair, works or improvements being done or made, but who has failed to give said notice within the said three days, shall post a notice in writing in some conspicuous place upon said land, or upon the buildings or improvements thereon, to the effect that he will not be responsible for the works or improvements, no works or improvements made after such posting shall give any right as against such owner or person, or his interest in said land, to a lien under this Act.

Notice by owner that he will not be responsible for work done on his land

12. Where any of the property upon which a lien is given by this Act is wholly or partly destroyed by fire, any insurance receivable thereon by the owner, prior mortgagee or chargee, shall take the place of the property so destroyed, and shall, after satisfying any prior mortgage or charge in the manner and to the extent set out in section 9 hereof be subject to the claims of all persons for liens to the same extent as if such moneys were realized by the sale of such property in an action to enforce a lien.

Insurance moneys

13. Every lien upon such building, erection, mine, works or improvements, or land shall absolutely cease to exist after the expiration of thirty-five days, except in the case of a claim for wages owing for work in, at or about a mine, in which case the lien shall cease after the expiration of sixty days after the claimant has ceased from any cause to work thereon, or place or furnish the materials therefor; provided, however, that any labourer shall not be held to have ceased work upon any building, erection, mine, works or improvements until the completion of the same, if he has in the meantime been employed upon any other work by the same contractor, unless in the meantime the person claiming the lien shall file in the land titles office of the land registration in which the land is situate or in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court of the province in the judicial district in which the land lies, an affidavit sworn before any person authorized to take oaths, stating in substance: 1915, c. 2, s. 27.

Lien expires in 31 days after completion of work unless registered

- (c) The time when the works or improvements were finished or discontinued;
- (d) The sum claimed to be owing and when due;

which affidavit shall be received and filed as a lien against the property, interest or estate. Every registrar under The Land Titles Act, and every such clerk shall be supplied with printed forms of such affidavits in blank, which may be in the form or to the effect of schedule A to this Act, and which shall be supplied to every person requesting the same and desiring to file a lien. Every such registrar and clerk shall keep an alphabetical index of all claimants of liens, and the persons against whom such liens are claimed, which index shall be open for inspection during office hours, and it shall be the duty of such registrar and clerk to decide whether his is or is not the proper office for the filing of such affidavits, and to direct the applicant accordingly; and no affidavit shall be adjudged insufficient on the ground that it was not filed in the proper registry office or clerk's office. The said claim of lien may be described as a mechanic's lien:

Amount for which lien may be filed

Claims to be filed as encumbrances, with registrar

With clerk

Provided, however, that no lien shall be filed unless the claim or joined claims shall amount to or aggregate $20 or more.

(2) Upon the filing of such affidavit in any such land titles office the registrar shall enter and register the claim as an encumbrance against the land or the estate or interest in the land therein described as provided in The Land Titles Act.

(3) Upon the filing of such affidavit in the office of any such clerk the clerk shall forthwith transmit to the registrar of the land registration district in which the land lies a certificate of the filing of such lien in his office, and specifying the particulars in the affidavit contained, and upon the receipt by the said registrar of such certificate he shall enter and register the claim as an encumbrance against the land or the estate or interest in the land therein described as provided in The Land Titles Act.

Substantial compliance with section 13 only necessary

14. A substantial compliance only with section 13 of this Act shall be required and no lien shall be invalidated by reason of failure to comply with any of the requisites thereof, unless in the opinion of the court or judge adjudicating upon the lien under this Act the owner, contractor, subcontractor, mortgagee or other person is prejudiced thereby, and then only to the extent to which he is prejudiced, and the court or judge may allow the affidavit and statement of claim to be amended accordingly.

Liens to pass on death to legal representatives or may be assigned

15. In the event of the death of a lienholder his lien shall pass to his personal representatives, and the right of a lienholder may be assigned by any instrument in writing subject to the limitations contained in section 17 hereof.

During continuance of lien property must not be removed

16. During the continuance of any lien no portion of the property affected thereby shall be removed to the prejudice of such lien and any attempt at such removal may be restrained on application to the court or judge.

Receipted pay rolls to be posted on works

17. No contractor or subcontractor shall be entitled to demand or receive any payment in respect of any contract where the contract price exceeds $500 until he or some person in charge of the works or improvements shall post upon the works or improvements a copy of the receipted pay roll, from the hour of 12 m. to the hour of 1 p.m. on the first legal day after pay day, and shall have delivered to the owner, or other person acting on his behalf, the original pay roll containing the names of all labourers who have done work for him upon such works or improvements, with a receipt in full from each of the said labourers, with the amounts which were due and had been paid to each of them set opposite their respective names, which pay roll may be in the form of schedule C hereto, and no payment made by the owner without the delivery of such pay roll shall be valid for the purpose of defeating or diminishing any lien upon such property, estate or interest in favour of any such labourer. No assignment by the contractor or any subcontractor of any moneys due in respect to the contract shall be valid as against any lien given by this Act. As to all liens, except that of the contractor, the whole contract price shall be payable in money, and shall not be diminished by any prior or subsequent indebtedness, offset or counterclaim in favour of the owner against the contractor:

Provided, however, that the failure to comply with the provisions of this section respecting the posting of the receipted pay roll and delivery of the same shall not prejudice the right of lien of the contractor or subcontractor so in default, or his right to maintain an action or other proceeding to enforce the same, but the court or judge on application may at any stage before trial order a stay of proceedings until proof be made to his satisfaction that all workmen employed by such contractor or subcontractor on such works or improvements have been paid in full, and may in such order limit the time within which such proof may be furnished, and if the same be not furnished to the satisfaction of such court or judge such action may be dismissed and in any such action or proceeding the court or judge may in his discretion award costs against the plaintiff in any event and notwithstanding that he may have successfully maintained his action to judgment. 1908, c. 20, s. 12.

ENFORCEMENT.

18. Any number of lienholders may be joined in one suit and all suits or proceedings brought by a lienholder shall be taken to be brought on behalf of all lienholders who may be made parties to such suits or proceedings within the time mentioned in section 35 hereof: Consolidation of liens

Provided that the moneys realized in such suit shall be distributed amongst the lienholders, parties to such suit or proceedings, in the order and manner provided in section 30 of this Act. Any lienholder not originally joined may be made a party to such suit or proceedings by order of a judge, upon ex parte application supported by an affidavit stating the particulars of the claim, and any lienholder so joined in any such suit or proceedings shall be deemed to have complied with section 35 of this Act as fully as if he had instituted a suit in his own behalf.

19. If more than one suit is commenced in respect of the same contract the owner or contractor shall apply to have the causes consolidated, and failing to do so he shall pay the costs Owner may apply to have suits consolidated of such additional suit or suits. Save as hereinafter mentioned the owner complying with the provisions of this Act shall not be liable for any greater sum than he has agreed to pay by contract.

Judge may order consolidation of actions

20. If two or more actions are brought in respect of the same contract or work the court or judge may by order on the application of any person interested consolidate all the actions and may make such order as to costs as he shall think fit.

Summary
enforce liens

21. Proceedings to enforce a lien or liens under this Act may be taken before the court or a judge in a summary way by originating summons subject to the provisions in that behalf of The Judicature Ordinance, and of the rules of court, which are now or which shall hereafter be in force in the province. The court or judge upon the return of the summons may either proceed to take the accounts and make the necessary inquiries for the purpose of determining the matter, or he may try or direct the trial of any issue or issues in relation thereto as he shall think necessary, and he may give directions as to the conduct of any such issue, the parties thereto, pleadings, particulars, production and discovery therein (if any such proceedings be by him thought necessary) and any other directions he shall deem advisable for the proper disposal and trial thereof; and in default of payment of any amount that shall be found to be due the court or a judge may direct the sale of the estate or interest charged and such further proceedings may be taken for the purposes aforesaid as the court or judge may think proper, and any conveyance under the seal of such court or judge shall be effectual to pass the estate or interest sold and the fees and costs in all proceedings so taken shall be such as are payable according to the ordinary procedure of the said court, and except as herein otherwise provided the proceedings shall be as nearly as possible according to the practice and procedure in force in the said court. 1909, c. 4, s. 10.

Proceedings
by suit

22. Proceedings to enforce a lien or liens under this Act may also be taken by suit in the ordinary way, provided, however, that the court or judge before whom such action is tried may in dealing with the question of the costs of such action take into consideration the difference in costs occasioned by reason of an action having been brought instead of proceedings having been taken by originating summons as provided in section 21 hereof, and may make such order as to costs therein, both as between solicitor and client as well as between party and party as to him shall seem just. 1909, c. 4, s. 10.

Appeal to Supreme Court

23. There shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court en banc from the decision of the court or a judge hereunder in all matters where the amount of the lien or the total amount of the liens joined in one action or proceedings is $200 or over, but where the amount of the lien or the total amount of the liens so joined is less than $200 the decision of the court or judge or first instance shall be final. 1909, c. 4, s. 10.

Judgment for amount of

24. Upon the hearing of any claim for a lien the court or judge may so far as the parties before him, or any of them, are debtor and creditor give judgment against the former in favour of the latter for any indebtedness or liability arising out of the claim in the same manner and to the same extent as if such indebtedness or liability had been sued upon in the said court in the ordinary way without reference to this Act.

25. Any person against whose property a lien has been registered under the provisions of this Act may apply to the court or judge on an affidavit setting forth the registry of the same, and that hardship or inconvenience is experienced or is likely to be experienced thereby, with the reasons for such statement, for a summons calling upon the opposite party to show cause why such lien should not be cancelled upon sufficient security being given. Such summons, together with a copy of the affidavit on which the same is granted, shall be served on the opposite party and made returnable in three days after the issuing thereof, or in such greater or less time as the judge may direct.

Summons to show cause why lien should not be cancelled

26. On the return of such summons the court or judge may order the cancellation of such lien, either in whole or in part, upon the giving of security by the party against whose property the said lien is registered to the opposite party in an amount satisfactory to the said court or judge, and upon such other terms, if any, as the court or judge may see fit to impose.

Judge may order cancellation of lien

27. The registrar in whose office the said lien is registered shall on the production of such order file the same and cause the said lien to be cancelled as to the property affected by the order.

On judge's order lien to be cancelled

28. When it shall appear to the court or judge in any proceedings to enforce a lien or liens under this Act that such proceedings have arisen from the failure of any owner or contractor to fulfil the terms of his contract or engagement for the work in respect of which the liens are sought to be enforced or to comply with the provisions of this Act such court or judge may order the said owner or contractor, or either of them, to pay all the costs of such proceedings in addition to the amount of the contract or subcontract, or wages due by him or them to any contractor, subcontractor or labourer, and may order a final judgment against such contractor or owner or either of them in default for such costs with execution as provided in section 21 of this Act.

(3) Any balance of said moneys remaining after all the above amounts have been distributed shall be payable to the owner or other person legally entitled thereto:

Provided, however, that when any labourer has more than six weeks' wages owing to him by any subcontractor, contractor or owner, the court or judge shall cause the extra sum beyond six weeks' wages to be deducted out of any sum actually coming under the above distribution to such subcontractor, contractor or owner, and shall order the same to be paid to such labourer.

Device to defeat priority of wage-
earners void

31. Every device by an owner, contractor or subcontractor, adopted to defeat the priority given to wage-earners for their wages by this Act shall, as against such wage-earners, be null and void.

Owner's
to wages

32. No lien, except for not more than six weeks' wages in favour of labourers, shall attach so as to make the owner liable for a greater sum than the sum owing by the owner to the contractor at the time of the receipt by the owner or person having superintendence of the work on behalf of the owner, of notice in writing of such lien and of the amount thereof; or which may become owing by the owner to the contractor at any time subsequent thereto while such lien is in effect. 1908, c. 20, s. 12.

What latest
contain

(2) Where more than one such notice is given by a lienholder to the owner in regard to material furnished to the same contractor the lienholder shall in the latest notice so given state the total amount or balance owing at the time of the giving of such latest notice by the contractor to the lienholder, and in default of such total amount or balance being so stated it shall, with respect to any payments made by the owner, be taken to be the amount of the lien mentioned in the said latest notice and no lien or liens of such lienholder shall attach so as to make the owner liable for more than the amount or the total amount or balance so ascertained. 1908, c. 20, s. 12.

Statement of

(3) Where notice of a lien has been given as in this section provided the lienholder shall upon request furnish to the contractor or owner a statement in writing of the amount or balance due and payable in respect of the material, for the supplying or furnishing of which such lien is claimed, and no lien or liens of such lienholder for material supplied or furnished up to the time of the giving of such statement shall attach so as to make the owner liable for any greater sum than is so stated. 1908, c. 20, s. 12.

Court may order statement to be given

(4) The contractor or owner may apply to the court by originating summons as set out in The Judicature Ordinance, to compel any lienholder who refuses or neglects to do so, to furnish such a statement as in the next preceding subsection required or with respect to the accuracy of any statement furnished in accordance with the provisions of this section, and the court may upon such application make such order in the premises and as to the costs of the application as to the court shall seem just. 1908, c. 20, s. 12.

Where any mechanic, artisan, machinist, builder, miner, contractor or any other person has furnished or procured materials for use in the construction, alteration or repair of any building, erection or mine at the request of and for some other person, such materials shall not be subject to execution or other process to enforce any debt (other than for the purchase thereof) due by the person furnishing or procuring such materials, and whether the same have or have not been in whole or in part worked into or made part of such building or erection. Materials exempt from execution

(11) Such application for foreclosure shall state that such default in payment as aforesaid has been made and has continued for the period aforesaid; that the land mortgaged or encumbered has been offered for sale at public auction under the provisions of this Act; that the amount of the highest bid at such sale was not sufficient to satisfy the moneys secured by such mortgage or encumbrance together with the expenses occasioned by such sale, and that such notice as aforesaid declared the intention of the mortgagee or encumbrancee to make an application for foreclosure in case such sale proved abortive; and such application shall be accompanied by such proof of the matters stated by the applicant and by such other evidence as the said registrar may require. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

(12) In case the notice as aforesaid has not declared the intention of the mortgagee or encumbrancee to make an application for foreclosure, another notice may be given declaring such intention if default in payment has continued for six months after the time for payment mentioned in the mortgage or encumbrance and in case a sale of the lands has proved abortive and when such subsequent notice has been given the application for foreclosure as herein provided may be proceeded with. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

(13) Such subsequent notice shall be filed and served in the same manner and upon the same persons as provided for in subsection (5) hereof. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

(14) Unless the registrar shall see fit to order otherwise the notice whether of intention to sell or to apply for a foreclosure order shall be served personally but in case any person required to be served cannot after due diligence be found the registrar may direct service of such notice by leaving the same on the mortgaged lands or by mailing the same in a sealed envelope by registered post directed to him or them at his or their last known address, or in such other manner as the registrar may direct; and in case any person required to be served is deceased and such person has no legal representative, such notice shall be effectively served upon the public administrator for the district in which the lands subject to the mortgage or encumbrance are situate. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

(15) On an application for foreclosure the registrar may if he considers it proper cause the notice to be published once in each of three consecutive weeks in such newspaper or newspapers as the registrar may direct and in one issue of The Alberta Gazette offering the said land for private sale and the registrar shall appoint a time not less than one month from the date of the first of such advertisements or in case there is no advertisement not less than one month from the date of such application upon and after which he may issue to such applicant an order for foreclosure unless in the interval a sufficient amount of money has been obtained from the sale of such land or paid by or on behalf of the owner, mortgagor or encumbrancer or interested party as aforesaid to satisfy the principal and interest and other moneys secured and all expenses occasioned by such sale and proceedings. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

(16) Every order of foreclosure under the hand of the registrar when entered in the register shall have the effect of vesting in the mortgagee or encumbrancee the land mentioned in such order free from all right and equity of redemption on the part of the owner, mortgagor or encumbrancer or any person claiming through or under him subsequently to the mortgage or encumbrance; and such mortgagee or encumbrancee shall upon such entry being made be deemed a transferee of the land and become the owner thereof and be entitled to receive a certificate of title for the same. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

(17) Where a mortgagor is entitled to redeem he shall on payment have the power to require the mortgagee instead of giving a discharge of the mortgage to transfer the mortgage to any third party as the mortgagor directs and the mortgagee shall be bound to transfer such mortgage to such third party. 1915, c. 3, s. 2.

Upon the receipt of a caveat the registrar shall enter the same in the day-book and shall make a memorandum thereof upon the certificate of title of the land affected by such caveat and shall forthwith send a notice of the caveat and of the interest claimed thereunder through the post office or otherwise to the person against whose title the caveat has been lodged; but in the case of a caveat before registration of title under this Act the registrar shall on receipt thereof enter the same in a book to be kept by him in which shall be entered all instruments affecting land as to which no title has yet issued.

Duties of registrar on receipt of caveat

87. So long as any caveat remains in force the registrar shall not register an instrument purporting to affect the land, mortgage or encumbrance in respect to which such caveat is lodged, unless such instrument be expressed to be subject to the claim of the caveator.

Effect of caveat

88. The caveator, or in case the caveat is signed by his attorney or agent, such attorney or agent may by notice in writing to the registrar withdraw his caveat at any time, and the registrar shall forthwith give notice in writing of such withdrawal by mail or otherwise to the caveatee.

Withdrawal of the caveat

89. Except in the case of a caveat lodged by the registrar, as hereinafter provided, every caveat lodged against any land, mortgage or encumbrance shall be deemed to have lapsed after the expiration of sixty days after notice, proved to the satisfaction of the registrar, has been either served as process is usually served or sent by registered mail in the form Y in the schedule to this Act or to like effect to the caveator at or to the address stated in the caveat to take proceedings in court on his caveat, unless before the expiration of the said period of sixty days the caveator takes proceedings in court by originating summons subject to the provisions of The Judicature Ordinance of the North-West Territories, or otherwise, to substantiate the title, estate, interest or lien claimed by his caveat and a judge's order in such proceedings has been filed with the registrar continuing such caveat:

Provided that the court or judge may upon an ex parte application shorten the said period of sixty days to such period as he shall specify in such order, and a copy of such order shall be served or mailed with the notice in this section referred to.

At any time before the expiration of the time limited for proceeding upon a caveat upon application to be made by way of summons to a judge, the judge for sufficient cause shown, and subject to such conditions as may seem proper, may extend the time for proceeding upon such caveat for a further period to be specified in the order made upon such application.

Application
to discharge

91. In the case of a caveat filed, except a caveat filed by the registrar as hereinafter provided, the applicant or owner may at any time apply to the court or a judge by originating summons, subject to the provisions of The Judicature Ordinance of the North-West Territories, calling upon the caveator to show cause why such caveat should not be discharged; and upon the hearing of such application the said court or judge may make such order in the premises and as to costs as to such court or judge may seem just.

Security

92. In any proceedings in respect of a caveat the court or judge may order that the caveator give such undertaking or security as such court or judge may consider sufficient to indemnify every person against any damage that may be sustained by reason of any disposition of the property being delayed, or to answer the costs of the caveatee, and may direct the register to delay registering any instrument dealing with the land, mortgage or encumbrance during such time as the order of such court or judge provides, or may direct the caveator to take further proceedings by action or otherwise upon his caveat, or may make such other order as may be just.

93. In any proceedings taken in consequence of the filing of a caveat if it be made to appear to the court or judge that the caveator or person on whose behalf the caveat has been filed by the registrar, as hereinafter provided, claims an interest in the land, mortgage or encumbrance by virtue of any contract in writing for the sale and purchase of such land, mortgage or encumbrance, signed by the vendor thereof or by his lawfully authorized agent or by virtue of an assignment of such contract, duly attested in the manner provided for in sections 102 and 103 of this Act, and that there has been no default under the terms of such contract, or if any default has been made that such default has been cured before the return of the application to the court or judge then the court or judge may, and unless it otherwise appears to be a case in which the caveat should be removed, shall refuse to order the removal of such caveat.

(2) An assignor of such a contract may apply to remove a caveat filed by his assignee in cases in which default has been made under any covenant or agreement entered into by such assignee.

94. Any person, other than the registrar, filing or continuing any caveat without reasonable cause shall be liable to make compensation to any person who may have sustained damage thereby; and such compensation may be recovered by action if the caveator have withdrawn such caveat and no proceedings have been taken by the caveator or caveatee as herein provided, but if such proceedings have been taken then such compensation shall be decided by the court or judge in such proceedings whether the caveat have been withdrawn or not. Compensation in case of caveat filed wrongfully

95. It shall not be lawful, except as hereafter mentioned, for the same person, or for any one on his behalf, to file more than one caveat in respect of the same matter; but nothing herein contained shall prejudice the right of the registrar to enter any caveat under the powers vested in him by this Act; and a judge may, if he thinks proper, upon application made to him for that purpose and upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as he may consider just, order that a new caveat be filed, and such order shall fix a time within which the caveator must proceed upon such caveat. Only one caveat to be filed

96. expensive to make inquiries in locality to which person
belongs justice

Relative or friend may make removal

12. If any relative or friend of a patient ordered to be removed to an asylum desires to perform the duty of taking him to such asylum and is competent to do so the warrant for such removal may be directed to and executed by such relative or friend instead of by a constable or peace officer.

(4a) Upon an insane person being discharged or released or handed over to any immigration officer or other person for deportation under the provisions of this Act, the Attorney General (or trust company, as the case may be) shall cease to be the guardian of the estate of such insane person, but the Attorney General may, if he shall see fit, retain (or where a trust company is guardian of any such estate under the provisions hereof, may require such trust company to retain and transmit to him) out of the estate of such insane person so much as may be required to pay any sums due to the Government of Alberta in respect of such insane person. 1910 (2nd Session), c. 2, s. 16; 1911-12, c. 4, s. 21 (1); 1913, c. 9, s. 15.

(5) In case the Attorney General does not delegate the guardianship of the estate of an insane person, he shall have all the powers and authorities in reference to the real and personal estate of an alleged lunatic as are hereby vested in a trust company. 1913 (2nd Session), c. 2, s. 13.

Government may sue for expenses

17. The said expenses shall be recoverable at the suit of the Government of Alberta in any court of competent jurisdiction:

his assignee, or representatives in the same manner as has heretofore been done in cases where any such business had been transacted in the said court.

68. In proving a compliance with this Act it shall not be necessary in the first instance to prove the contents of the bill rendered, but it shall be sufficient to prove that a bill of fees, charges and disbursements signed in the manner aforesaid was rendered by being delivered personally or mailed to the proper address of the party to be charged, but the other party may show that the bill so rendered was not such a bill as constituted a bona fide compliance with this Act. Contents of bill

Where any person not being chargeable as the principal party is liable to pay or had paid any bill either to the barrister and solicitor, his assignee or representative or to the principal party chargeable therewith, the person so paying, his assignee or representative may make the like application for a reference thereof to taxation as the party chargeable therewith might himself have made and in like manner; and the same proceedings shall be had thereupon as if the application had been made by the party so chargeable. (b) When the injury was caused by the personal negligence or wilful act of the employer or of some person for whose act or default the employer is responsible nothing in this Act shall affect any civil liability of the employer but in that case the workman may, at his option, either claim compensation under this Act or take proceedings independently of this Act; but the employer shall not be liable to pay compensation for injury to a workman by accident arising out of and in the course of the employment both independently of and also under this Act, and shall not be liable to any proceedings independently of this Act, except in case of such personal negligence or wilful act as aforesaid;

Proceedings for the recovery under this Act of compensation for an injury shall not be maintainable unless notice in writing of the accident has been given as soon as practicable after the happening thereof, and before the workman has voluntarily left the employment in which he was injured, and unless the claim for compensation with respect to such accident has been made within six months from the occurrence of the accident causing the injury, or, in case of death, within six months from the time of death: Time for taking proceedings

Provided always that—

- (a) The want of or any defect or inaccuracy in such notice shall not be a bar to the maintenance of such proceedings if it is found in the proceedings for settling the claim that the employer is not, or would not, if a notice or an amended notice were then given and the hearing postponed, be prejudiced in his defence by the want, defect or inaccuracy, or that such want, defect or inaccuracy was occasioned by mistake, absence from the province, or other reasonable cause; and
- (b) The failure to make a claim within the period above specified shall not be a bar to the maintenance of such proceedings if it is found that the failure was occasioned by mistake, absence from the province, or other reasonable cause.

(2) Notice in respect of an injury under this Act shall give the name and address of the person injured, and shall state in ordinary language the cause of the injury and the date at which the accident happened, and shall be served on the employer, or, if there is more than one employer, upon one of such employers.

(3) The notice may be served by delivering the same at, or sending it by post in a registered letter addressed to the residence or place of business of the person on whom it is to be served.

(4) Where the employer is a body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, the notice may also be served by delivering the same at, or by sending it by post in a registered letter addressed to the employer at the office, or, if there be more than one office, any one of the offices of such body.

CONTRACTING OUT.

5. If the Attorney General, after taking steps to ascertain the views of the employer and workmen, certifies that any scheme of compensation, benefit, or insurance for the workman of an employer in any employment, whether or not such scheme includes other employers and their workmen, provides scales of compensation not less favourable to the workmen and their dependants than the corresponding scales contained in this Act, and that, where the scheme provides for contributions by the workmen, the scheme confers benefits at least equivalent to those contributions, in addition to the benefits to which the workmen would have been entitled under this Act, and that a majority (to be ascertained by ballot) of the workmen to whom the scheme is applicable are in favour of such scheme, the employer may, whilst the certificate is in force contract with any of his workmen Contracting out that the provisions of the scheme shall be substituted for the provisions of this Act, and thereupon the employer shall be liable only in accordance with the scheme, but, save as aforesaid, this Act shall apply notwithstanding any contract to the contrary made after the commencement of this Act.

(2) The Attorney General may give a certificate to expire at the end of a limited period of not less than five years, and may from time to time renew with or without modifications such a certificate to expire at the end of the period for which it is renewed.

(3) No scheme shall be so certified which contains an obligation upon the workmen to join the scheme as a condition of their hiring, or which does not contain provisions enabling a workman to withdraw from the scheme.

(4) If complaint is made to the Attorney General by or on behalf of the workmen of any employer that the benefits conferred by any scheme no longer conform to the conditions stated in subsection (1) of this section, or that the provisions of such scheme are being violated, or that the scheme is not being fairly administered, or that satisfactory reasons exist for revoking the certificate, the Attorney General shall examine into the complaint, and, if satisfied that good cause exists for such complaint, shall, unless the cause of complaint is removed, revoke the certificate.

(5) When a certificate is revoked or expires, any moneys or securities held for the purpose of the scheme shall, after due provision has been made to discharge the liabilities already accrued, be distributed as may be arranged between the employer and workmen, or as may be determined by the Attorney General in the event of a difference of opinion.

(6) Whenever a scheme has been certified as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the employer to answer all such inquiries and to furnish all such accounts in regard to the scheme as may be made or required by the Attorney General.

(7) The Attorney General may make regulations for the purpose of carrying this section into effect.

SUBCONTRACTING.

Subcontracting 6. Where any person (in this section referred to as the principal) in the course of or for the purposes of his trade or business, contracts with any other person (in this section referred to as the contractor) for the execution by or under the contractor of the whole or any part of any work undertaken by the principal which is in the way of the principal's trade or business, the principal shall be liable to pay to any workman employed in the execution of the work any compensation under this Act which would have been liable to pay if that workman had been immediately employed by him; and where compensation is claimed from or proceedings are taken against the principal, then, in the application of this Act, references to the principal shall be substituted for references to the employer, except that the amount of compensation shall be calculated with reference to the earnings of the workman under the employer by whom he is immediately employed.

(2) Where the principal is liable to pay compensation under this section he shall be entitled to be indemnified by any person who would have been liable to pay compensation to the workman independently of this section, and all questions as to the right to and amount of any such indemnity shall in default of agreement be settled by arbitration under this Act.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing a workman recovering compensation under this Act from the contractor instead of the principal.

(4) This section shall not apply in any case where the accident occurred elsewhere than on, or in, or about premises on which the principal has undertaken to execute the work or which are otherwise under his control or management.

PROVISION AS TO CASES OF INSOLVENCY OF EMPLOYER.

7. Where any employer has entered into a contract with any insurers in respect of any liability under this Act to any workman, then, in the event of the employer making an assignment for the benefit of or a composition or arrangement with his creditors, or if the employer is a company in the event of the company having commenced to be wound up, the rights of the employer against the insurers as respects that liability shall be transferred to and vest in the workman, and upon any such transfer the insurers shall have the same rights and remedies and be subject to the same liabilities as if they were the employer, so however that the insurers shall not be under any greater liability to the workman than they should have been under to the employer.

Provisions
as to cases of insolvency
of employer

(2) If the liability of the insurers to the workman is less than the liability of the employers to the workman the workman may prove for the balance in the assignment or liquidation proceedings.

(3) There shall be included among the debts which under The Assignments Act, and The Companies Winding-Up Ordinance, are in the distribution of the property in the case of an assignment, and in the distribution of the assets of a company being wound up, under the said Act and Ordinance respectively, to be paid in priority to all other debts, the amount, not exceeding in any individual case five hundred dollars, due in respect of any compensation the liability wherefor accrued before the date of the assignment or the date of the commencement of the winding up, and the said Acts shall have effect accordingly. Where the compensation is a weekly payment, the amount due in respect thereof, shall for the purposes of this provision, be taken to be the amount of the lump sum for which the weekly payment could, if redeemable, be redeemed if the employer made an application for that purpose under the first schedule to this Act.

(4) The provisions of this section with respect to preferences and priorities shall not apply where the assignor or the company being wound up has entered into such a contract with insurers as aforesaid.

(5) This section shall not apply where a company is wound up voluntarily merely for the purposes of reconstruction or of amalgamation with another company.

REMEDIES BOTH AGAINST EMPLOYER AND STRANGER.

both against employer and stranger

8. Where the injury for which compensation is payable under this Act was caused under circumstances creating a legal liability in some person other than the employer to pay damages in respect thereof—

(1) The workman may take proceedings both against that person to recover damages and against any person liable to pay compensation under this Act for such compensation, but shall not be entitled to recover both damages and compensation; and

(2) If the workman has recovered compensation under this Act, the person by whom the compensation was paid, and any person who has been called on to pay an indemnity under the section of this Act relating to subcontracting, shall be entitled to be indemnified by the person so liable to pay damages as aforesaid, and all questions as to the right to and amount of any such indemnity shall, in default of agreement, be settled by action, or, by consent of the parties, by arbitration under this Act.

PROVISIONS AS TO EXISTING CONTRACTS.

to existing contracts

9. Any contract existing at the commencement of this Act, whereby a workman relinquishes any right to compensation from the employer for personal injury arising out of and in the course of his employment shall not, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to continue after the time at which the workman's contract of service would determine if notice of the determination thereof were given at the commencement of this Act.

10. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained this Act shall not apply to the employment of agriculture, nor to any work performed or machinery used on or about a farm or homestead for farm purposes or for the purposes of improving such farm or homestead and for greater certainty but so as not to restrict in any degree the generality of the foregoing words of this section this Act shall not apply to any of the following employments on a farm:

(a) Threshing, cleaning, crushing, grinding or otherwise treating grain or sawing wood, posts, lumber or other wooden material, or otherwise treating the same, or the pressing of hay, by any kind of machinery or motive power, and whether such machinery or motive power be portable or stationary, and whether the same be owned and operated by the farmer or farmers for whose purpose the same is being used, or by any other farmer or other person for gain, profit or reward.

(b) The construction, repair or demolition of any farm building, windmill, derrick or other structure.

(2) The word "factory" as defined in this Act shall not be held to include any building, workshop, place or mill on a farm used for the purposes of such farm.

(3) The words "mine" or "quarry" as defined in this Act shall not be held to include any mine or quarry on a farm used for the purposes only of such farm.

(4) The words "engineering work" as defined in this Act shall not be held to include any ditch, drain, well, or other excavation on a farm being constructed or repaired for the purposes of such farm, or any adjoining farm or farms.

11. This Act shall come into operation on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and nine but shall not apply in any case where the accident happened before the commencement of this Act.

SCHEDULES.

Unless the context otherwise requires—

- (a) The words "Court" or "District Court" when used in these schedules shall mean the District Court of the district in which all the parties concerned reside, or, if they reside in different districts, then of the district in which the accident out of which the matter arose occurred, or any judge of such District Court;
- (b) "Rules of Court" shall mean rules of court made and promulgated as provided for in The District Courts Act.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

SCALE AND CONDITIONS OF COMPENSATION.

- (1) The amount of compensation under this Act shall be:

- (a) Where death results from the injury—

Scale and conditions of compensation

- (i) If the workman leaves any dependants wholly dependent upon his earnings, a sum equal to his earnings in the employment of the same employer during the three years next preceding the injury, or the sum of one thousand dollars, whichever of those sums is the larger, but not exceeding in any case eighteen hundred dollars, provided that the amount of any weekly payments made under this Act, and any lump sum paid in redemption thereof, shall be deducted from such sum, and, if the period of the workman's employment by the said employer has been less than the said three years, then the amount of his earnings during the said three years shall be deemed to be one hundred and fifty-six times his average weekly earnings during the period of his actual employment under the said employer;
 - (ii) If the workman does not leave any such dependants, but leaves any dependants in part dependent upon his earnings, such sum not exceeding in any case the amount payable under the foregoing provisions, as may be agreed upon, or in default of agreement may be determined, on arbitration under this Act, to be reasonable and proportionate to the injury to the said dependants; and
 - (iii) If he leaves no dependants, the reasonable expenses of his medical attendance and burial, not exceeding two hundred dollars;
- (b) Where total or partial incapacity for work results from the injury, a weekly payment during the incapacity not exceeding fifty per cent. of his average weekly earnings during the previous twelve months, if he has been so long employed, but if not then for any less period during which he has been in the employment of the same employer, such weekly payment not to exceed ten dollars. 1913 (2nd Session), c. 2, s. 18:

Provided that as respects the weekly payments during total incapacity of a workman who is under twenty-one years of age at the date of the injury, and whose average weekly earnings are less than ten dollars, one hundred per cent. shall be substituted for fifty per cent. of his average weekly earnings, but the weekly payment shall in no case exceed seven dollars and fifty cents.

(2) For the purposes of the provisions of this schedule relating to "earnings" and "average weekly earnings" of a workman, the following rules shall be observed:

- (a) Average weekly earnings shall be computed in such manner as is best calculated to give the rate per week at which the workman was being remunerated. Provided that where by reason of the shortness of the time during which the workman has been in the employment of his employer, or the casual nature of the employment, or the terms of the employment, it is impracticable at the date of the accident to compute the rate of remuneration, regard may be had to the average weekly amount which, during the twelve months previous to the accident, was being earned by a person in the same grade employed at the same work by the same employer, or, if there is no person so employed, by a person in the same grade employed in the same class of employment and in the same district;
- (b) Where the workman had entered into concurrent contracts of service with two or more employers under which he worked at one time for one such employer and at another time for another such employer, his average weekly earnings shall be computed as if his earnings under all such contracts were earnings in the employment of the employer for whom he was working at the time of the accident;
- (c) Employment by the same employer shall be taken to mean employment by the same employer in the grade in which the workman was employed at the time of the accident, uninterrupted by absence from work due to illness or any other unavoidable cause;
- (d) Where the employer has been accustomed to pay to the workman a sum to cover any special expenses entailed to him by the nature of his employment, the sum so paid shall not be reckoned as part of the earnings.

(3) In fixing the amount of the weekly payment regard shall be had to any payment, allowance or benefit which the workman may receive from the employer during the period of his incapacity, and in the case of partial incapacity the weekly payment shall in no case exceed the difference between the amount of the average weekly earnings of the workman before the accident and the average weekly amount which he is earning or is able to earn in some suitable employment or business after the accident, but shall bear such relation to the amount of that difference as under the circumstances of the case may appear proper.

(4) Where a workman has given notice of an accident he shall, if so required by the employer, submit himself for examination by a duly qualified medical practitioner provided and paid by the employer, and, if he refuses to submit himself to such examination, or in any way obstructs the same, his right to compensation, and to take or prosecute any proceeding under this Act in relation to compensation, shall be suspended until such examination has taken place.

(5) The payment in the case of death shall, unless otherwise ordered as hereinafter provided, be paid into court, and any sum so paid into court shall, subject to rules of court and the provisions of this schedule, be invested, applied, or otherwise dealt with by the court in such manner as the court in its discretion thinks fit for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto under this Act, and the receipt of the clerk of the court shall be a sufficient discharge in respect of the amount paid in:

Provided, that if so agreed, the payment in case of death shall, if the workman leaves no dependants, be made to his legal personal representative, or, if he has no such representative, to the person to whom the expenses of medical attendance and burial are due.

(6) Rules of court may provide for the transfer of money paid into court under this Act from one court to another court in the province.

(7) Where a weekly payment is payable under this Act to a person under any legal disability the court may, on application being made in accordance with rules of court, order that the weekly payment be paid during the disability into court, and the provisions of this schedule with respect to sums required by this schedule to be paid into court shall apply to sums paid into court in pursuance of any such order.

(8) Any question as to who is a dependant shall, in default of agreement, be settled by arbitration under this Act, or, if not so settled before payment into court under this schedule, shall be settled by the court, and the amount payable to each dependant shall be settled by arbitration under this Act, or, if not so settled before payment into court under this schedule, by the court. Where there are both total and partial dependants nothing in this schedule shall be construed as preventing the compensation being allotted partly to the total and partly to the partial dependants.

(9) Where, on application being made in accordance with rules of court, it appears to the court that, on account of neglect of children on the part of a widow, or on account of the variation of the circumstances of the various dependants, or for any other sufficient cause, an order of the court or an award as to the apportionment amongst the several dependants of any sum paid as compensation, or as to the manner in which any sum payable to any such dependant is to be invested, applied or otherwise dealt with, ought to be varied, the court may make such order for the variation of the former order or the award, as in the circumstances of the case the court may think just.

(10) Any sum which under this schedule is ordered to be invested may be invested in whole or in part in securities or investments approved by the court by the clerk of the court in his name as clerk.

(11) Any workman receiving weekly payments under this Act shall, if so required by the employer, from time to time submit himself for examination by a duly qualified medical practitioner, provided and paid by the employer. If the workman refuses to submit himself to such examination, or in any way obstructs the same, his right to such weekly payments shall be suspended until such examination has taken place.

(12) A workman shall not be required to submit himself for examination by a medical practitioner under paragraph (4) or paragraph (11) of this schedule otherwise than in accordance with regulations made by the Attorney General or at more frequent intervals than may be prescribed by those regulations.

Where a workman has so submitted himself for examination by a medical practitioner, or has been examined by a medical practitioner selected by himself, and the employer or the workman, as the case may be, has within six days after such examination furnished the other with a copy of the report of that practitioner as to the workman's condition, then, in the event of no agreement being come to between the employer and the workman as to the workman's condition or fitness for employment, the court on application may, on payment by the applicants of such fee not exceeding ten dollars as may be prescribed, refer the matter to a medical referee appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

The medical referee to whom the matter is so referred shall, in accordance with regulations made by the Attorney General, give a certificate as to the condition of the workman and his fitness for employment, specifying, where necessary, the kind of employment for which he is fit, and that certificate shall be conclusive evidence as to the matters so certified.

Where no agreement can be come to between the employer and the workman as to whether or to what extent the incapacity of the workman is due to the accident, the provisions of this paragraph shall, subject to any regulations made by the Attorney General, apply as if the question were a question as to the condition of the workman.

If a workman, on being required so to do, refuses to submit himself for examination, by a medical referee to whom the matter has been so referred as aforesaid, or in any way obstructs the same, his right to compensation and to take or prosecute any proceeding under this Act in relation to compensation, or, in the case of a workman in receipt of a weekly payment, his right to that weekly payment, shall be suspended until such examination has taken place.

Rules of court may be made for prescribing the manner in which documents are to be furnished or served and applications made under this paragraph and the forms to be used for those purposes and as to the fee to be paid under this paragraph.

(13) Any weekly payment may be reviewed at the request either of the employer or of the workman, and on such review may be ended, diminished, or increased, subject to the maximum above provided, and the amount of payment shall, in default of agreement, be settled by arbitration under this Act:

Provided that where the workman was at the date of the accident under twenty-one years of age and the review takes place more than twelve months after the accident, the amount of the weekly payment may be increased to any amount not exceeding fifty per cent. of the weekly sum which the workman would probably have been earning at the date of the review if he had remained uninjured, but not in any case exceeding ten dollars.

(14) Where any weekly payment has been continued for not less than six months the liability therefor may, on application by or on behalf of the employer, be redeemed by the payment of a lump sum of such an amount as the court shall deem just, and such lump sum may be ordered by the court to be invested or otherwise applied for the benefit of the person entitled thereto:

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as preventing agreements being made for the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum.

(15) If a workman receiving a weekly payment ceases to reside in the province, he shall thereupon cease to be entitled to receive any weekly payment unless a medical referee appointed hereunder certifies that the incapacity resulting from the injury is likely to be of a permanent nature. If the medical referee so certifies, the workman shall be entitled to receive quarterly the amount of the weekly payments accruing due during the preceding quarter so long as he proves, in such manner and at such intervals as may be prescribed by rules of court, his identity and the continuance of the incapacity in respect of which the weekly payment is payable.

(16) A weekly payment, or a sum paid by way of redemption thereof, shall not be capable of being assigned, charged or attached, and shall not pass to any other person by operation of law, nor shall any claim be set off against the same.

(17) Where under this schedule a right to compensation is suspended no compensation shall be payable in respect of the period of suspension.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

ARBITRATION, ETC.

(1) For the purpose of settling any matter which under this Act is to be settled by arbitration, if any committee, representative of an employer and his workmen, exists with power to settle matters under this Act in the case of the employer and workmen, the matter shall, unless either party objects by notice in writing sent to the other party before the committee meet to consider the matter, be settled by the arbitration of such committee, or be referred by them in their discretion to arbitration as hereinafter provided.

(2) If either party so objects, or there is no such committee, or the committee so refers the matters or fail to settle the matter within three months from the date of the claim, the matter shall be settled by a single arbitrator agreed on by the parties, or in the absence of agreement by the court, according to the procedure prescribed by rules of court.

(3) The Arbitration Ordinance or any Act of the Legislature of Alberta substituted therefor shall not apply to any arbitration under this Act, but a committee or an arbitrator may, if they or he think fit, submit any question of law for the decision of the court, and the decision of the court on any question of law, either on such submission, or in any case where he himself settles the matter under this Act, or where he gives any decision or makes any order under this Act, shall be final, unless within the time and in accordance with the conditions prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court either party appeals to the Supreme Court en banc, and the court shall, for the purpose of proceedings under this Act, have the same powers of procuring the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents as if the proceedings were an action in the court.

(4) The court may summon a medical referee to sit with the court as an assessor.

(5) Rules of court may make provision for the appearance in any arbitration under this Act of any party by any other person.

(6) The costs of and incidental to the arbitration and proceedings connected therewith shall be in the discretion of the committee, arbitrator or court, subject as respects such court to rules of court. The costs, whether before a committee or an arbitrator or in the court, shall not exceed the limit prescribed by rules of court, and shall be taxed in manner prescribed by those rules and such taxation may be reviewed by the court.

(7) In the case of the death, or the refusal or inability to act, of an arbitrator, the court may, on the application of any party, appoint a new arbitrator.

(8) Where the amount of compensation under this Act has been ascertained, or any weekly payment varied, or any other matter decided under this Act, either by a committee or by an arbitrator or by agreement, a memorandum thereof shall be sent, in manner prescribed by rules of court, by the committee or arbitrator, or by any party interested, to the clerk of the court, who shall subject to such rules, on being satisfied as to its genuineness, record such memorandum in a special register without fee, and thereupon the memorandum shall for all purposes be enforceable as a judgment of the court:

Provided that—

- (a) No such memorandum shall be recorded before seven days after the despatch by the clerk of notice to the parties interested; and
- (b) Where a workman seeks to record a memorandum of agreement between his employer and himself for the payment of compensation under this Act and the employer, in accordance with rules of court, objects to the recording of such memorandum and proves that the workman has in fact returned to work and is earning the same wages as he did before the accident, then the memorandum shall only be recorded, if at all, on such terms as the court under the circumstances may think just; and
- (c) The court may at any time rectify the register; and
- (d) Where it appears to the clerk of the court, on any information which he considers sufficient, that an agreement as to the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum, or an agreement as to the amount of compensation payable to a person under any legal disability, or to dependants, ought not to be registered by reason of the inadequacy of the sum or amount, or by reason of the agreement having been obtained by fraud or undue influence, or other improper means, he may refuse to record the memorandum of agreement sent to him for registration, and refer the matter to the court and the court shall, in accordance with rules of court, make such order (including an order as to any sum already paid under the agreement) as under the circumstances may seem just; and
- (e) The court may, within six months after a memorandum of an agreement as to the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum, or of an agreement as to the amount of compensation payable to a person under any legal disability, or to dependants, has been recorded in the register, order that the record be removed from the register on proof to the satisfaction of the court that the agreement was obtained by fraud or undue influence or other improper means, and may make such order (including an order as to any sum already paid under the agreement) as under the circumstances may seem just.
- (9) An agreement as to the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum if not registered in accordance with this Act shall not, nor shall the payment of the sum payable under the agreement, exempt the person by whom the weekly payment is payable from liability to continue to make that weekly payment, and an agreement as to the amount of compensation to be paid to a person under a legal disability or to dependants, if not so registered, shall not, nor shall the payment of the sum payable under the agreement, exempt the person by whom the compensation is payable from liability to pay compensation, unless, in either case, he proves that the failure to register was not due to any neglect or default on his part.
- (10) The duty of District Courts under this Act shall, subject to rules of court, be part of the duties of such courts, and the officers of such courts shall act accordingly, and rules of court may be made both for any purpose for which this Act authorizes rules of court to be made, and also generally for carrying into effect this Act so far as it affects such courts, and proceedings therein.

(11) No court fee, except such as may be prescribed under paragraph (12) of the first schedule to this Act, shall be payable by any party in respect of any proceedings by or against a workman under this Act in the court prior to the award.

(12) Any sum awarded as compensation shall, unless paid into court under this Act, be paid on the receipt of the person to whom it is payable under any agreement or award, and the solicitor or agent of a person claiming compensation under this Act shall not be entitled to recover from him any costs in respect of any proceedings in an arbitration under this Act, or to claim a lien in respect of such costs on, or deduct such costs from, the sum awarded or agreed as compensation, except such sum as may be awarded by the committee, the arbitrator, or the court, on an application made either by the person claiming compensation, or by his solicitor or agent, to determine the amount of costs to be paid to the solicitor or agent, such sum to be awarded subject to taxation and to the scale of costs prescribed by rules of court.

(13) Any committee, arbitrator or court may, subject to regulations made by the Attorney General, submit to a medical referee for report any matter which seems material to any question arising in the arbitration.

(14) The Attorney General may, by order, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions or modifications as he may think fit, confer on any committee representative of an employer and his workmen, as respects any matter in which the committee act as arbitrators, or which is settled by agreement submitted to and approved by the committee, all or any of the powers conferred by this Act exclusively on courts or judges thereof, and may by the order provide how and to whom the compensation money is to be paid in cases where, but for the order, the money would be required to be paid into court, and the order may exclude from the operation of provisions (d) and (e) of paragraph (8) of this schedule agreements submitted to and approved by the committee, and may contain such incidental, consequential or supplemental provisions as may appear to the Attorney General to be necessary or proper for the purposes of the order.

REGULATIONS AS TO REFERENCES UNDER SCHEDULE II, PARAGRAPH (13).

CONDITIONS OF REFERENCE.

20. Before making any reference, the committee, arbitrator or court, shall be satisfied, after hearing all medical evidence tendered by either side, that such evidence is either conflicting or insufficient on some matter which seems material to a question arising in the arbitration and that it is desirable to obtain a report from a medical referee on such matter.

FORM AND MODE OF REFERENCE.

21. Every reference shall be made in writing and shall state the matter on which the report of the medical referee is required, and the question arising in the arbitration to which such matter seems to be material. Such reference shall be in accordance with the form prescribed in the schedule to these regulations, or as near thereto as may be.

22. On making the reference to the medical referee, the committee, arbitrator, or court shall make an order in the form prescribed in the schedule, directing the injured workman to submit himself for examination by the medical referee. of the notice served on the respondent under Rules 14 and 15, upon the person against whom such claim is made; and the provisions of paragraphs 2 to 5 of Rule 15 shall apply to such service.

20. If any person served with a notice under the last preceding Rule (hereinafter called the third party) desires to dispute the applicant's claim in the arbitration as against the respondent on whose behalf the notice has been given, or his own liability to such respondent, he must appear before the judge on the day fixed for proceeding with the arbitration, or on any day to which he may have received notice from the clerk that the arbitration has been adjourned or postponed; and in default of his so doing he shall be deemed to admit the validity of any award made against such respondent as to any matter which the judge has jurisdiction to decide in the arbitration as between the applicant and the respondent, whether such award is made by consent or otherwise, and his own liability to indemnify the respondent to the extent claimed in the notice served on him by the respondent:

Provided, that if it appears to the judge before or at the arbitration that the notice of claim has not been served on the third party in time to enable him to appear on the day hereinbefore mentioned, or that for any other sufficient cause the third party is unable to appear on such day, the judge may adjourn the proceedings in the arbitration on such terms, as to costs and otherwise, as may be just.

21. If the third party fails to appear on the day mentioned in Rule 20, or, if the proceedings are adjourned under that Rule, on the day to which the proceedings are adjourned, then if the arbitration results in an award in favour of the applicant, or the arbitration is finally decided in favour of the applicant otherwise than by an award, the judge may on the application of the respondent make such award as the nature of the case may require in favour of the respondent against the third party; but execution thereon shall not issue without leave of the judge until after satisfaction by the respondent of the award against him, or the amount recovered against him:

Provided, that the judge may set aside or vary any award made against the third party under this Rule upon such terms as may be just.

22. The third party or the respondent may apply before or at the arbitration to the judge for directions; and the judge, upon the hearing of the application, may, if satisfied that there is a question proper to be determined as to the liability of the third party to make the indemnity claimed, in whole or in part, order the question of such liability as between the third party and the respondent giving the notice to be determined at or after the arbitration, and if not so satisfied may make such award as the nature of the case may require in favour of the respondent giving the notice against the third party; or the judge may, if it appears desirable so to do, give the third party leave to resist the claim of the applicant against the respondent upon such terms as may be just, or to appear at the arbitration and take such part therein as may be just, and generally may give such directions as he may think proper for having the question most conveniently determined, and as to the mode or extent in or to which the third party shall be bound or made liable by the award in the arbitration.

23. The judge may decide all questions of costs as between a third party and the other parties to the arbitration, and may order any one or more to pay the costs of any other or others, or give such directions as to costs as the justice of the case may require.

(b) The judge may, on an application for directions, order any question as to the liability of the third party to make the indemnity claimed to be settled, as between the respondent and the third party, by arbitration after the arbitration between the applicant and the respondent, and may on such subsequent arbitration make such award as the nature of the case may require in favour of either party against the other.

(c) In any such case the judge may decide all questions of costs as between the respondent and the third party, and may order either of such parties to pay the costs of the other (including any costs payable by such party to any other party to the arbitration), or give such directions as to such costs as the justice of the case may require.

CHAPTER 20.

An Act to Amend the Statute Law.

(Consolidated in the various Ordinances and Acts.)

An Act respecting Seed Grain.

(Assented to February 21, 1908.)

(See also Seed Grain Act, 1915, c. 14.)

WHEREAS the Lieutenant Governor in Council has had ^{Preamble} under consideration the recommendation and report of the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture, which report bears date the sixth day of February, A.D. 1908, and sets forth that a serious situation exists in the Province of Alberta regarding the supply of good seed suitable for next season; that the condition is due to the weather conditions of last year, the crops not having ripened before the frost; that in many sections of the province the grain on hand is totally unfit for seed; that this is especially true of oats and barley and that prompt attention is necessary to avert possible disaster to the province and Dominion;

And whereas the said report of the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture further sets forth that the farmers individually cannot successfully cope with the situation, and owing to the money stringency the province cannot depend on the Canadian banks furnishing requisite funds, and there is no time for an immediate foreign loan, the credit of the province not yet being established;

And whereas the said report of the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture states that the estimated amount of seed needed is one hundred thousand (100,000) bushels of wheat, one hundred thousand (100,000) bushels of barley, and four hundred and fifty thousand (450,000) bushels of oats;

And whereas the said report of the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture recommends that for the purpose of obtaining funds for the purchase of seed grain for the settlers, the Provincial Treasurer be authorized to receive from the Government of Canada, by way of a loan on the credit of the province, the sum of four hundred and forty thousand ($440,000.00) dollars, or such part thereof as may be required for the purpose stated, and that the province agree to pay the Government of Canada any sum so advanced, together with five per centum per annum interest thereon, on or before the thirty-first day of March, 1909, and that if any part of the said sum and interest shall remain unpaid on the said date, the same shall thereupon become a charge upon any subsidy allowance, grant, or money which for any purpose whatsoever may at any time hereafter become payable by the Government of Canada to the Government of the Province of Alberta;

And whereas the said report of the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture further recommends that the Government of Canada may appropriate such portions or portion of any such subsidy allowance, grant, or money as it may deem necessary or advisable towards the repayment of such sum and interest, and that the Government of the province engages to recommend to the Legislature of the province, at the earliest opportunity, the enactment of a law approving and confirming this order in council;

And whereas it is expedient that the action of the Lieutenant Governor in Council in this regard be ratified by an Act of this province;

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta, enacts as follows:

Order in Council
authorizing loan of $440,000.00

4. The amount agreed to be paid by any applicant for seed grain, together with interest as aforesaid, shall be a tax upon such applicant and upon the land for the cultivation of which seed grain has been furnished, and in addition to any other remedies herein contained or otherwise available for the collection of the same, the following provisions in relation thereto shall have effect:
